the impact of adverse childhood experiences lie behind many of the most common and bewildering classroom challenges today understanding the why behind students behaviour can be transformative in shifting school behaviour as well as the welfare of your students this book is grounded in the lived experiences of educators who overcame challenges in early life it combines their insights with easy to implement tools worksheets and resources drawing on proven restorative practice transactional analysis cognitive behavioural therapy approaches it will provide you with a fresh perspective to see what is really going on in your classroom and will give you the confidence to provide the support your students really need in order to thrive whether you are a school leader teacher or classroom assistant primary or secondary in mainstream send or alternative provision this book will help you to create positive change a guide to recognising managing overcoming and surviving the work related stress suffered by so many teachers and school leaders working in schools today this unique honest provocative and humorous analysis of the challenges of leading a 21st century school is filled with scenarios and strategies guaranteed to inspire reassurance and help leaders overcome the pressures on them in addition to helping school leaders recognise and manage stress in themselves the book covers how to help and support members of staff to manage stress levels and the pressures of their job school staff suffering from and not being able to manage high levels of stress is a huge barrier to school improvement as well as successful sustainable educational leadership stress in schools is on the increase as teachers and leaders have higher imposed targets than ever before and feel like they have less support a recent report stated that two fifths of teachers are leaving the profession within five years of starting and teachers taking leave due to stress is also on the increase it was reportedly up 10 over the last 4 years in 2012 and on the increase stress in the teaching profession has often gone untalked about and headteachers especially feel unable to talk about it openly however it is very prevalent in the news at the moment especially since the head of ofsted sir michael wilshaw caused outrage when he said that teachers do not know what stress is leading from the edge is unique because it looks at work related stress from a school leader s personal experience james hilton worked as a headteacher for 15 years in large schools following a nervous breakdown brought on by work related stress in 2006 and after a significant period of absence he returned to headship more self aware than before chris roome the mental health therapist who taught him many of the positive strategies he learned in his recovery will act as a consultant on the book adding significant credibility to the work each chapter will conclude with learning points and a wealth of practical self help strategies foreword by richard gerver

a practical guide to staying well in a high pressure profession in the midst of a recruitment crisis and a massive exodus of teachers from our schools now is the time for some joined up thinking about teacher well being and mental health filled with insightful advice and practical strategies peter radford s love teaching keep teaching invites educators to think differently about the way education is done and shows them how they can keep doing the job they love without sacrificing their health and well being furthermore he paints a picture of a truly healthy school as being one in which the value of each staff member and student is fundamental to everything they do and shapes the way they do it peter also offers a fresh perspective on school leadership encouraging leaders to rethink common practices and to explore the rewards and benefits of employing a people focused approach both in the staffroom and across the school suitable for teachers and school leaders in both primary and secondary settings
